County Refuse System Stalled

Attempt to Operate Landfills or Burners Tabled at Board Meet

Madison county's entry into the solid waste disposal business will be delayed more than two years as a result of tabling action taken by the county board of supervisors Wednesday morning.

A resolution that the county board initiate formation of a county owned disposal system and that the proposal be submitted for approval of the voters at the Nov. 5 election was tabled by a 32 to 13 vote.

A motion to table the resolution was made by George Roberts, Alton supervisor, immediately after it was presented by Carl Buehler, assistant Granite City supervisor and chairman of the board's sanitation committee. No preliminary discussion was held before the vote.

Buehler said the county now will be unable to submit bond issue proposals to the voters for another two years, and that approval of action to make this November's election would be required by the August meeting. He expects the resolution to remain tabled.

Cost of Systems
An extensive report on a survey conducted on county needs by Horner & Shiffrin, St. Louis engineering consultants, recommended a landfill system requiring a bond issue for $3,360,000, or an incineration system for $7.4 million, or a combination of both.

The consultants also are completing a survey for three counties, including St. Clair and Monroe along with Madison, St. Louis and Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, and recommended that Madison county wait until it is completed in March. The engineers said the three counties may be eligible for federal funds in establishing an area-wide system.

Buehler, members of the sanitation committee, and Jack Clifford, county sanitation engineer, have long warned that the county will be out of available landfill space.

Choose Best System
He said that the resolution to authorize action now was presented so that board members could determine by the August meeting the best feasible system, or alternate proposals, which could be submitted to voters.

Harry Briggs, Namekoti township supervisor, and Walter Sparks, Chouteau township supervisor, also were present.

Becker Named Vice-Chairman of United Fund Drive

Appointment of George Becker, a staff representative of the United Steelworkers at the sub-district office here, to the post of vice-chairman of the 1969 Tri-Cities Area United Fund drive was announced today.

The announcement was made by Thomas R. Remington, campaign chairman and president of the Castings Division of General Steel Industries.

A goal for the fall campaign has not yet been determined.

The Admissions and Distribution committee will go to work next week to develop the individual agency budgets.

Becker, who lives at 209 Warsaw lane, Mitchell, has been a member of the Admissions and Distribution committee for three years and was chairman in 1966 and 1967. He also is a member of the executive board of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council, a United Fund agency.

In addition he has been a member of the UF board of directors for three years.

Becker is a trustee to the United Community Funds and Councils of America and is the local representative-delegate to the national association. Becker was named by A. P. Steinhilber, president of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund.

Last year, the area's U.F. goal was $384,000, and $367,310 (95.7%) was raised.

1.12-Inch Rain Hits Quad-City Overnight

Rainfall of 1.12 inches drenched the Quad-City area in little more than three hours late last night and early this morning, bringing the total fall to 3.5 inches thus far this month.

Weather records at the Chain of Rocks lock showed the 1.12 inches fell between 8:45 p.m. and 12:15 a.m. The downpour flooded streets.

Last night's fall was the second heaviest reported this month. A total of 1.4 inches was registered July 1, while .82 inch fell on July 9. Other falls recorded this month include .65 inch each on July 14 and 15 and .32 inch on July 16.

The total fall of 3.5 inches so far this month is 30 inch more than the normal rainfall for the entire month of July. Normal for this month is 3.2 inches.

Threat of Police Picketing Shakes Council

The council-mayor feud continued on the same track during Monday night's meeting, with the aldermen again overriding a Partney veto.

The only new development was a little backtracking by the council faction headed by Alderman Boyd, when a state representative of the Police-men's Union threatened picketing of the city hall if the council didn't settle down and agree to negotiate a new agreement.

There were about 25 policemen—several in uniform—in the audience to back up the union official.

A 20-minute recess, brought by Boyd, but no date was set Monday night for the negotiating session with representatives of the Police and Firemen's Unions.

After most of the policemen and a delegation of firemen departed, the council went on to its budget, placing on first reading the council's proposal which included the same $90,000 figure for salary increases as the mayor had placed in his budget.

This figures about $53-a-month increase for each of the city's

Youth Leaps Off Bike to Save Boy Ablaze

A 15-year-old youth who leaped off a bicycle upon seeing a younger boy run out of a front yard enveloped in flames, helped smother the blaze, saving the boy from more severe burns Tuesday afternoon.

In critical condition today at Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital, St. Louis, with second degree burns over most of his upper body and head, is Thomas Dean Mundy Jr., 10, whose parents live at 2240 State street.

The boy was severely burned from the waist up about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, when his bicycle ignited while playing with gasoline with a group of young friends in the front yard of a house at 2241 Grand avenue.

The youngsters are believed to have started a small fire into which the extent of vision impairment, a family spokesman said yesterday, adding that physicians were unable to fully assess the extent of vision impairment. The boy's face was extremely swollen and burned, and he was unable to raise the eyelids.

Rescuer's Relates Incident
Bob Brammell, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brammell, attempted to put out the blaze. He said the boy was without a shirt.

"I was yelling for someone to help me when a man came running down the block with a blanket. He started to put out the flames on his face and head, and I put out the fire on his back," the Brammell youth said. He identified the other rescuer only as "Dave."

The burn victim was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred immediately to Cardinal Glennon Hospital.

TV Found Near School
A television set which had been left near the Marshall school building was recovered by police at 7:30 a.m. yesterday. An investigation is under way to locate the owner.

Also to participate in the bid review are members of the Hospital Associates, the governing board and the Lay Advisory board.

Harold Fischer and Carl Mathias represented the Associates at the bid opening, while Austin Witter, chairman, represented the Lay Advisory board. The Sisters of the Governing board also were present.

Madison Police Capture Four as Robbery Suspects

Four Madison and Venice youths, two of them already charged in a Venice burglary case, were captured at gunpoint by Madison police early Tuesday morning as suspects in a robbery at East St. Louis.

Madison police said the men were wanted by East St. Louis authorities in connection with the robbery and abduction of Danny Kolb, 20, attendant at a service station in the outer State street area there, about an hour before the suspects were picked up in Madison at 3:30 a.m.

Those arrested were Thomas Weston, 18, of 1012 Calhoun street, Venice; Eddie Ingram, 20, of 822 Jackson street, Madison; Johnny Williams, 23, of 163 Lee Wright homes, Venice; and Frederick Smith, 21, of 623 Mercedia street.

2 Free on Bonds

At the time of their capture, Weston and Smith were free on recognizance bonds as defendants in the July 4 burglary of the Robins Nest tavern in Venice from which a large quantity of whisky and beer and 147 in-cases were taken.

Johnny Williams is a brother of Tommie Lee Williams, 22, of 163 Lee Wright homes, Venice, who also is charged with burglary in the Venice tavern theft.

Defendants in the Venice burglary, including Weston and Smith, were scheduled to be arraigned on burglary charges in magistrate court yesterday.

All four men, however, were turned over to East St. Louis police. Robbery charges were filed against them.

Madison police reported they received a radio message from

Madison Teacher Contract Dispute Still in Stalemate

Resumption of contract negotiations between Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 and the board of education appeared unlikely until the latter party's negotiating statements issued this week by both sides.

After meeting of the teachers local Monday night, Bernard Long, president, said no plans were made to attempt negotiations at this point and there were no changes in proposals made by the teachers. He said talks may start again before the opening of school.

Ray Dragich, superintendent of schools, reported that the school board has given no consideration to resumption of the talks.

The school board meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the superintendent's office, but the dispute is not on the agenda.

Initiative budget for next school year, which will provide for teachers salaries, is to be adopted.

Meanwhile, Madison representatives of the teachers local, the school board, affiliated school organizations and several city and school units joined a state-wide rally and demonstration Monday to Springfield to encourage passage by the State Legislature for an increase in state aid from $400 to $485 per pupil.

The increase would provide additional funds for salary increases.

Activities began at Springfield's Douglas Park and culminated in a parade.

Bill to Authorize Airport Is Filed

State May Provide Up To $100,000 for Study Of Area Installation

A legislative measure authorizing the Illinois Department of Aeronautics to operate a major airport in the Illinois area of this metropolitan region was introduced in the Illinois Senate at Springfield Tuesday.

The bill was submitted as an emergency measure by State Sen. Paul Simon of Troy, Democratic nominee for Illinois lieutenant governor.

If passed, it would appropriate up to $100,000 for engineering and feasibility studies for airport development. It specifies location of the airport in either Madison, St. Clair or Monroe counties.

Three other Democrats are co-sponsors of the bill with Simon. They include Alan J. Dixon of Belleville, Democratic whip in the Senate; James H. Donawald of Brees and William Lyons of Gillespie.

Urges Quick Action

The bill said in part that "it is imperative in connection with the continued economic growth of this state that preliminary studies looking toward the establishment of a major airport in the East St. Louis metropolitan area be initiated without delay."

James H. Donawald, director of the department of aeronautics, told reporters that he was unaware of the action in Tuesday's legislative session, but assumed it was the result of recent efforts by state and local forces to locate a second major airport in the Illinois section of the metropolitan region.

Area leaders attending a recent meeting of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission were told by Wenzel and Gene Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, that the State of Illinois still lends maximum aid to the area in its efforts to develop a major airport, even to the extent of appropriating funds toward purchase of a site.

Wenzel told the group that three adequate sites in the area have been under study.

County Board Notified

Meanwhile, the department of aeronautics notified the county boards of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission yesterday that it intends to approve an application for operation of the East St. Louis Airport as a commercial airport.

Application for the permit was filed by William Nichols, operator of Nichols Net & Twine Co. on South Bend road, who said he would lease the land for investment purposes and that he has no personal plans to operate an airport himself.

He said he applied for the permit to certify to a master plan of an airport in the event he found parties interested in leasing the land for that purpose. The Lakeside Airport property covers 150 acres and formerly was operated by the U.S. Army.

Woman Hurt As Car Hits Fence, House

While a woman was hanging on the side of his car trying to help him stop it, John Sanford, 71, of 817 Bissell street, Venice, drove over the curb in the 1200 block of Market street in Venice Tuesday afternoon, plowed down 30 feet of cyclone fence, ran over several lawn chairs and crashed into the porch of a residence.

The woman, Elizabeth Turner, 38, of 1217 Market street, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by a passing motorist.

Venice authorities said the odd accident occurred at 1:30 p.m. as Sanford's car accidentally jumped into gear as Sanford was starting the motor, causing Sanford to lose control.

Police reported the Turner woman was walking along the sidewalk at the time, saw what was happening and jumped onto the side of the car in an attempt to help Sanford get the car under control.

She was still hanging onto the car when it tore down the fence and hit the porch of the home of Alex Williams at 1213 Market street. She was released after treatment.

Record Summer Enrollments At Two Campuses of SIU

Summer quarter enrollment at Southern Illinois University's two campuses is reported at 16,370 students, the largest summer class in history and 15 per cent above last summer's registration.

Registrar Robert McGrath said there are 10,317 students at Carbondale, the first time summer enrollment there has topped the 10,000 mark.

The total represents a jump of 1233 students over 1967. Enrollment at the local Southern campus is 6053, up 959 from last summer.

SIU has logged steadily increasing summer enrollments since adoption of a graduated admissions policy. Under it, only Illinois students in the upper half of their high school classes can enter in the fall. All high school graduates with acceptable SIU entrance exam scores can be admitted in the summer.

McGrath said the figure will go higher after registrations have been completed for credit workshop scheduled later in the quarter.

The largest overall increase was in the junior class, up 660 from last year. Graduate School enrollment for the summer is 4270 on both campuses.

An increase of 399 from last year.

University-wide, men outnumbered women about 5 to 2, but the biggest imbalance is at the Carbondale campus, where there are 6539 men compared to 3978 women.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Page 2 Thurs., July 18, 1968

MORE ABOUT GC Budget

past, most increases have been of the "blanket" type.

Mayor's Comment
The $108,400 allocation for special improvement was earned by Mayor Partney as pre-election maneuver to soothe the ruffled feathers of the tax-paying public.

Alderman Fry noted that the 100-member audience for air pollution controls was not present Monday night, so the council majority forgot the vote in May to authorize purchase of $6000 to $7000 worth of air monitoring equipment.

"Looks like you're planning to dump the air pollution budget," Alderman Whitman commented. He noted that the mayor's budget includes $13,400 for a full-time technical secretary and inspector, $4000 for clerical help, $7000 for equipment and out-of-town meeting, $750 for office expenses, $500 for conference and $600 for a car allowance.

The council's figures are $4000 for the technical secretary and staff, $1200 for clerical help, $550 for office expenses, $1000 for travel and equipment and $250 for conferences.

Under special improvement projects, the mayor's budget includes $7500 for improvement of East 25th street from Nameoki road to Anchorage, $5500 for resurfacing 19th street from Cleveland Blvd. to the railroad tracks.

Special Improvements
The council's special improvement section consists of $10,000 for East 25th street, $10,000 for the 2400 and 2500 blocks of Grand avenue, $6000 for the 19th street project, $6000 for resurfacing the 2100 block of Benton street, $6000 for curbs in the 1600 block of Maple street, $14,700, 100-foot curb section at 1637 Spring avenue, $450; curbs on Gore avenue from Pontoon road to Ball avenue, $5500.

Sidewalk on the south side of 20th street from Center to Adams street, $550; sidewalk on the west side of Edgewood from O'Hare to Willow avenue, $600; on the west side of Edgewood from Johnson road to Devon Hill lane, $900; on Franklin avenue from Johnson road to Fontenac drive, $750 and on Braden avenue from Pontoon road to the city limits, $2210.

Protests to the move by Alderman Nann, who read the budget, and by Alderman Partney, who read the rules suspension and immediate adoption were made by Alderman Rutledge. He pointed out the council had been given the mayor's budget two weeks ago for study, while the council's budget had been presented for adoption had been distributed that evening.

The reading of the budget, item by item, took 24 minutes, and the debate that started at 10:14 p.m. lasted about 10 minutes.

No Added Employees
Mayor Partney pointed out the council's budget failed to include additional men for the police and fire departments and his proposal to place the switchboard in police headquarters with the switchboard operator to handle police calls, freeing two desk men for regular police duties.

He added that the switchboard operator duties at the city hall are gradually being reduced with more and more departments getting independent phones. He also pointed out there was no provision in the council budget for a new fire truck.

A breakdown comparison of the mayor's and the council's budget follows with the budget figure for last year listed in parentheses. The mayor's figure is listed first.

The Industry Advancement Foundation of Southern Illinois Builders Association today announced that Keith Wayne Hooks, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooks of Collinsville, is the winner of the 1968 four-year, $6000 scholarship award.

He ranked third in a class of 530 and was selected from applicants from a 16-county area covered by the Foundation by a panel of five judges. Local judges were Gene Sternberg, chairman of the board of trustees for the Industry Advancement Foundation and C. E. Townsend, editor-publisher of the Granite City Press-Record.

Young Hooks will receive the $6000 scholarship which is divided into four annual awards of $1500 each. He is enrolled at Tulane University, New Orleans, La., where he plans to major in Architecture. This summer he is working with his father who is employed as an iron worker. All applicants must qualify as an Illinois resident student of the area where crafts participate in the Industry Advancement Foundation of the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

GC Man, 24, Held for Robbery, Kidnaping

William Mitchell, 24, who gave his address as 2606 Sheridan avenue, and a companion remained in the St. Clair county jail today awaiting preliminary hearings on charges of armed robbery and aggravated kidnaping.

Mitchell and John Light, 36, of Canebrake township, were arrested by Washington Park police early Friday at a cafe near Routes 111 and 50.

Police charged that the two men forced their way into an auto occupied by Robert Taylor of Greenville, a former Madison county deputy sheriff, and Stephen Carter of East Alton, took $7 from them at gunpoint and forced them to drive to the cafe.

Light, who had three guns in his possession when arrested, also was charged with a concealed weapons charge. Bonds were set at $20,000 for Mitchell and $21,000 for Light.

Classical Program for Final Music under Stars' Concert

The final concert of the "Music Under the Stars" summer program at the rink pavilion in Wilson Park, will be held next Thursday, July 25, at 8 p.m.

Warren Simpkins, director, has announced the program will be all classical musical selections by local and area artists.

Young Bang Cho, 14, from Seoul, Korea, will be one of the artists to appear on this final program. She is at the present time a piano student of Miss Ruth Slenczynska, Artist-in-Residence at the Southwestern campus of SIU.

Through a friend and former resident, James Wade, now living in Seoul, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mac Donald heard of Young Bang and by mutual cooperation arranged to have her brought to Granite City for further training. She now lives with the Mac Donalds, who are enrolled in Coolidge junior high school.

Since she has been in Granite City, she has made several concert appearances for clubs, churches and school events. She was winner of the Young Artists Competition sponsored by SIU-SW. As a result of this competition she will be presented at a concert this fall at the Southwestern campus.

Saturday Window Service at PO to End Here July 27

Elimination of post office window service on Saturdays will be the only immediate result in this area of new Post Office Department orders curtailing Saturday service throughout the nation, according to Granite City Postmaster W. T. Overbeck.

Overbeck said that Saturday window service will be eliminated in the Granite City post office July 27, as well as at the Nameoki and Mitchell substations on the same date.

"About all this means is that patrons will be unable to buy stamps on Saturday," Overbeck said.

The Post Office Department order eliminating 347 fourth class postal stations will have no effect in the Quad-City area since there are no stations of that type located in the area.

A fourth-class station is one in which the postmaster is the only employee and does all the work.

Saturday service also will be eliminated at the Madison and Venice post offices under the same order. Both Madison and Venice post offices have been providing Saturday window service from 9 a.m. until noon.

Madison is a first-class post office and Venice is a second-class station.

The Post Office Department said the Saturday service cutbacks are caused by manpower cutbacks dictated in the new tax bill.

Postmasters have been asked to submit by Sept. 1 plans for elimination of all Saturday mail delivery on city residential routes, although no date has been set for carrying out such a plan.

Department officials at Washington said that under the manpower restrictions imposed by the tax bill "we simply will not have enough people to continue all postal services at their present level."

Set Entry Deadline in Soybean Yield Contest

An Aug. 1 deadline has been set for entering the 1968 Illinois Five-Acre Soybean Yield Contest sponsored by the Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and Illinois Crop Improvement Association, it was announced today.

Purpose of the contest is to encourage an improvement in soybean production methods.

The average five-acre soybean yield for contestants in 1964, first year of the contest, was 42.6 bushels per acre. Last year's contestants averaged 48.8 bushels. Medals and gift certificates valued at more than $200 will be awarded to farmers placing first and second in this year's contest.

MORE ABOUT Threat of

June presented that evening.

Rutledge added that he didn't want the Negotiating committee to say the Finance committee was cooperative. He and Boyd then entered into a heated exchange of words.

The mayor's veto of the ordinance adopted last week to repeal the $8500 a year salary set up for the public engineer was overridden by a vote of 11-4. Alderman Johnson, who is vacationing, was absent.

In his veto message, the mayor challenged the legality of the action that had been initiated by Alderman Moerlein, pointing out that the ordinance establishing the job of public engineer with the salary of $8500 was introduced in September, 1964 by Moerlein.

The mayor also pointed out in his veto message that on Jan. 25, 1965, the city entered into an engineering agreement with the firm of Research Planning & Design Associates, and at the time Moerlein and relatives were working for the firm.

Partney added that this action could be termed "conflict of interest." Later, Partney said the alderman should either resign as alderman or his family should divest themselves of all connections with this firm.

Moerlein added that he was not questioning the mayor's right to appoint a public engineer, "but that doesn't mean he's going to get paid."

The mayor began two months ago to name Edward Juneau of the engineering firm of Shepard, Morgan & Schwaab, Granite City, to the post of public engineer with 30-day appointments.

Yating to override the mayor's veto were Dallas, Moerlein, Bartoskiak, Boyd, Poulos, Green, Barsch, Neen, Parrary, Robertson and Daves. Opposed were Whitmer, Rutledge, Fry and Jarrett.

The St. Louis based Research Planning & Design Associates firm presently is the city's motor fuel tax engineer, operating under a contract signed by Alderman Johnson, who at the time was chairman of the Street committee.

'Things are Really Jumping' In SIU-SW's Mail Room

Things are really jumping in the Science Building at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

"In fact, some of these things have been known to jump on the blouse of an unsuspecting coed," Laurence R. McAneny, dean of the University's Science and Technology Division, said with a smile.

"As you can well guess," the affable dean stated, "having an over-enthusiastic cricket invade your clothing is enough to unravel the nerves of the most loyal soul."

Although the problem of the frivolous crickets hasn't yet reached terrorist proportions, some of the people working in the mail room on the first floor are getting a little jittery.

Officials have theorized that the high-hopping insects are escaping from faulty containers in the mail room and they disperse from there into other sections of the building. They are part of shipments received each week as food for the snakes and lizards housed in the biology quarters.

McAneny said steps currently are being taken to ensure that the cricket packaging does not develop "leaks," as it has been prone to do in the past. Although the crickets are harmless, he said, they are after distressing to some individuals.

"Not only are they annoying on sight," the dean said, "they often intensify this disfavor by chirping in the halls and classrooms."

At any rate, the problem gradually is being alleviated through use of flywaters and insecticides. However, the academic silence still is broken occasionally by a muffled cry of alarm or a rebounding student.

Nobody pays much attention, though, anymore. In fact, these outbursts seem almost cricketing.

Rescind License Revocation

Revocation of the driver's license of John A. Huniak, 223 Washington avenue, Madison, has been rescinded by the office of Secretary of State Paul Powell, it was announced today.

The action was taken, Powell's office said, because Huniak was not found guilty in circuit court at Cook county on the charges listed on the ticket.

County Refuse

Alton has purchased 69 acres of an old brick yard for city landfill purposes, with the land to be reserved for future park and recreation purposes.

It was suggested by Alton area board members that surrounding communities could use the Alton landfill, which would reduce the cost there.

Ray Iberg of Marine township retorted that if Alton wants other areas to use its landfill, it can invite St. Louis to use it.

Chouteau Objections

Sparks submitted petitions containing 279 signatures obtained by the Chouteau Island Citizens Association from various parts of the county objecting to any landfill operation on the island, where the MAL landfill is now under way.

The plan was considered as a prime location for a landfill in the Homer & Shiffrin report. Another attempt to repeal an amendment setting license fees for Missouri haulers at $100 per truck, and the Killingham amendment banning out-of-state refuse, again failed 28-16. The repeal motion had been tabled at the June meeting.

Reported Plan of Offer for GC Steel Co. Denied

Wall Street rumors in New York that a tender offer for Granite City Steel Co. would be made by H. K. Porter Co. were denied today by Thomas Mellon Evans, Porter board chairman, who said no such proposal is under consideration.

Evans' denial of the rumor was taped this morning to stock markets following publication of an article in the Wall Street Journal yesterday quoting Evans as saying he had nothing on the proposal "at this time."

Granite City Steel Co. officials said they had "no knowledge and no comment concerning the rumors." They said
Granite City Steel has talked to no one about offers for the mill.
Missouri River Corp. also has denied a report that it planned to make an offer for the steel company.

Granite City Steel issues were active in trading yesterday and rose 1/4 points to 29 1/2.

Credit Union Wins GC Regional Slow Pitch Softball Tournament

Granite City Steel Credit Union won the Granite City Regional slow pitch softball tournament at Worthen Park Wednesday evening after losing the first game 9-4 to Sammy's Tavern and beating them in the second game 9-8.

Going into the evening's action, Credit Union remained the only undefeated team in the tournament after beating Sammy's previously on Tuesday 7-3 when both teams were undefeated going into that contest.

Sammy's dropped to the losers bracket and played against the Clark's Vikings, beating them 8-6. This gave Sammy's the right to play in the championship and a second shot at Credit Union.

The Vikings beat the Zips 7-3 and then beat Holiday Mobile Homes 7-5. Holiday eliminated Tony and Joe 7-3 in an earlier game.

In the Championship games, Credit Union had 12 hits and four errors in the first game, while the winners picked up 14 hits and made one error.

Credit Union was slow getting started as it went to the sixth inning with only one run and six hits. Credit Union scored two runs in the sixth inning and another in the seventh as they had three hits in each of those innings.

Sammy's scored three runs in the first, one in the third, three in the fourth and one in the fifth and seventh innings led by a homerun by Joe Hiles. Gary Willardt pounded out three hits in the game for the winners.

The winning pitcher was Joe Hauptman and the loser was Bob Patrick.

In the second game, Credit Union was trailing 5-3 going into the last inning, when Bruce Thompson led off with a single, scored on a triple by Larry Williams, Mike Sues singled home Williams and Norm Grote hit an inside-the-park homerun as the outfielders skidded on the grass going after a line shot that rolled to the fence.

Credit Union pounded out 15 hits and made one error, while Sammy's also rolled up 15 hits but made four errors.

Charlie Stephens hit two homeruns and Joe Hiles hit one homer for Sammy's.

The winning pitcher was Patrick and the loser was Hauptman.

These two teams will be joined by the Vikings and Holiday Mobile Homes this week-end at Caseyville in the State slow pitch double elimination tournament.

Holiday will play the opening game of the tournament against Frawley Dodge of East St. Louis at 6 p.m. tomorrow. Credit Union will play against O'Fallon Bowl at 10 p.m. that evening.

The Vikings will play against Packard Dairy of East St. Louis at 1 p.m. Saturday and Sammy's Tavern will play against Decatur in a 7 p.m. game.

There will be 28 teams in the State Tournament at Caseyville this year with about 54 games expected to be played to decide the championship.

Tracing Granite City into their second games if they win will be Credit Union playing at 8 p.m. Sunday against the winner of the Vikings game.

Sammy's Tavern will play its second game against the winner of the Caseyville vs. Wood River game at 4 p.m. Sunday, and Holiday Mobile Homes will play against the winner of the Springfield vs. Caseyville game at 5 p.m. Sunday.

There will be times and places for the losers bracket games have not been announced.

State to Approve New Operation of Lakeside Airport

The Illinois Department of Aeronautics will approve an application to operate Lakeside airport as a commercial airport on or after Aug. 5, it notified the Madison county board of supervisors Wednesday morning.

The approval will provide for issuance of a certificate for a commercial airport after it meets all minimum requirements for its operation. It also will provide six months to meet the standards.

Persons notified of the action on the 146,029-acre tract may file objections before Aug. 5 or 15 days after issuance of the application approval.

William Nichols, owner of the property who recently acquired it for investment purposes, said he does not plan to operate an airport but submitted an application to pave the way for any purchaser who may wish to do so.

The area could be developed for other purposes, he said. The Lakeside airport previously was operated by Ormer Midway before the land was sold by trustees of an estate to Nichols.

Meanwhile, the Illinois Legislature is expected to approve formation of a metropolitan area airport authority which may be operated by the Bi-State Development Agency, and the Lakeside area is being considered as a possibility for a major airport facility.

The Aeronautics Department also announced that it has rescinded the commercial airport certificate for the Lakeside Airport of Interstate 270 east of Mitchell, granted 1966, and issued a license for a restricted landing field at the same location to C. Tom Foster, former operator of the Foster strip.

A. O. Smith Earnings Are Up in 2nd Quarter

A. O. Smith Corp. continued to make significant progress in the second quarter of 1968, with earnings rising 42% over the same 1967 period. Sales increased 18%, according to L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer. Second quarter earnings were $3,890,000, or $1.53 a share, up from $2,680,000, or $1.06 a share, a year earlier. Sales in the recent quarter totaled $108,229,000, compared with $91,337,000 in 1967.

Earnings for the six months ended June 30, 1968, were $5,991,000, or $2.41 a share, compared with $4,283,000, or $1.72 a share, in 1967. Sales for the first half of 1968 were $196,639,000, against $168,602,000 in 1967. Net earnings for the second quarter of 1968 were reduced by $460,000, or 16 cents per share, to provide for the recently imposed federal income tax surcharge which is retroactive to Jan. 1, Smith said.

First quarter earnings, previously reported at $2,452,000, or 99 cents a share, have been restated for the same reason, and are now $2,185,000, or 88 cents a share.

"We anticipate sales and earnings during the remainder of the year to approximate those of the same period in 1967," Smith said. "However, there are a number of external influences, including the effect on the economy of the tax surcharge, which could affect our projected results."

Improvement in the first half was apparent in each of A. O. Smith's major businesses, he reported. Contributing importantly to these results were those A. O. Smith operations which supply the industrial and agricultural capital equipment markets.

The company's automotive frame operations are experiencing higher volume due to industry rises in auto and truck production. The Automotive division is presently retooling for the production of 1969 automobiles, frames, and the transition is being accomplished smoothly, Smith added.

$250,000 Suit Filed Over Plant Accident

A suit for $250,000 was filed Monday for Robert M. Barbour against Granite City Steel Co., S. M. Wilson & Co. and Mesa-Wilson-Foster in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

The complaint alleges that on April 24, 1967, Barbour was employed as an electrician by Granite City Steel Co. in the steel mill expansion program and was standing on a step-ladder to test wire through an opening of the floor of the computer room when he fell and was injured. He claims that the ladder provided was inadequate and insufficient for the work being performed.

Lack of Easement for Ditch Could Prove Costly to City

A million dollars worth of storm sewers will be useless unless the city takes steps quickly to provide an easement along East 23rd street, the city council was advised Monday night.

In a letter from the contractor, S. M. Wilson & Co., it was pointed out the delay encountered in obtaining the easement for the storm sewer project, which will pass the added expense on to the city. No estimate of this added cost was available.

The letter, in which an extension to the contract was requested, was referred to the Special Sewer committee headed by Alderman Bartoskiak.

Hopes for Next Week
The alderman said he hoped to have a recommendation ready for next week's council session.

The hang-up is the council's refusal to decide on a cost action or a swap to get the needed property for the ditch from Granite City Steel Co. Bartoskiak has stressed that condemnation also would be costly and cause up to a year's delay in the project. He has asked the council to agree to a swap of the section of August street between Edwardsville road and East 23rd street, that bisects Granite City Steel property.

Petitions Filed

The council has been petitioned by the users of the street not to close it. One alderman timed the travel from points along the roadway already have been constructed so storm water can go in the ditch to be dug along the roadway.

The planned ditch in the new system to separate storm water from sanitary sewage will flow to the Nameoki area drainage ditch that empties into Horseshoe Lake. All of the new ditch would be on Granite City Steel Co.

Swap Proposal

In negotiating sessions, the steel mill officials have refused to sell the property to the city, but instead want to exchange the needed 10 acres of their land with the city for three-acre August street right-of-way across its property.

The steel mill indicated any future expansion of its plant would be on the property between East 23rd street, Nameoki road and Edwardsville road and that August street would pose a problem.

Cost of purchase of the right-of-way for the ditch has been estimated by the Special Sewer committee as $100,000 or more, coupled with a possible year's delay, since the steel mill has threatened to take the condemnation proceedings to the supreme court.

In Plans for Months

Alderman Fry noted several weeks ago that the sets of engineering plans for the storm water system, prepared over a period of a year, showed the closing of August street, and he was perplexed that the easement had not been obtained and the council made aware of the situation at an earlier date. Granite City Steel had cleared scrap metal and machinery from the proposed easement months ago in anticipation of the city negotiating an easement.

Several negotiating sessions have been held between the city and steel mill with both sides standing pat—the city refusing to give up August street and the steel mill refusing to sell its property.

In a report to the city, the contractor stated that construction of the paved ditch on the mill's property now will have to be delayed until the spring and summer of 1969. It was pointed out the lines installed in East Granite will be filling with water and could possibly create a health hazard in the area.

Special Meet Called

A special meeting of the Nameoki town board will be held in the town hall, Route 162, at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, it was announced today. The meeting is expected to include discussion of plans for sewer installations in the township. The board recently discussed the necessity of updating old sewer plans to keep a U. S. grant application alive.

Vandals Burn Materials

Vandals burned a pile of wood and cardboard cabinets which they removed from a house under construction for William Laycock at 3 Edwardsville drive between 9 p.m. Monday and 4 p.m. Tuesday, he reported to the Madison county sheriff's office. He said there had been no labor trouble nor threatening phone calls concerning the house.

Also stressed was the flooding of the area, since drainage is being completely divorced from the present sanitary sewers which have carried away surface water. "About a million dollars worth of paid for work will be unusable for an indefinite period of time," the contractor added.

S. M. Wilson & Co. plans to revamp its work schedule to concentrate on the remainder of the drainage system, which will separate storm water from sanitary sewers in the older sections of the city south of Nameoki road and will carry surface water to the 96-inch pipe to be installed along the old TIR right-of-way and Victory street to Edwardsville road. Council members placed on first reading Monday night two change orders relative to the storm sewer project and the sanitary sewer project in North Granite and scattered sections of the city.

No Engineer Present

No one was present from the engineering firm of H. W. Lochner & Co., but Mayor Parney explicated the savings of $34,611 in one change order for the storm water project resulting from the engineer's failure to note a line already exists along 23rd street and Adams street.

Other change orders added $435, $109 and $1139 for difficulties encountered in construction and finding uncharted utility lines.

The Special Sewer committee was instructed to have the engineer present for council sessions. "He's getting enough money; he ought to be here," one alderman remarked. Bartoskiak replied the engineer hadn't been paid a penny to date.

Madison Sued on Tolls

A suit for $13,194 plus interest and costs was filed Monday against the City of Madison by Wilson Freight Co. of Ohio in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville. The complaint alleges that the amount represents tolls illegally charged for use of the Chain of Rocks bridge from 1968 through 1966.

Bill Keith, 3003 West 20th street, reported at 8 a.m. yesterday that a 12-volt battery was stolen from a station wagon parked outside his home the previous night.

"IT'S GOT ME GOING IN CIRCLES"

The other night, while I was talking to one of the service clubs about advertising, the question was asked, "HOW COME YOU HAVE SO MANY LITTLE ITEMS IN YOUR NEWSPAPER ADS?"

This is a question that many people have asked me, and the answer is a very simple one... "TRI-CITY HAS THOUSANDS OF ITEMS THAT WE ARE AS LOW AS OR LOWER THAN OUR COMPETITORS, AND THAT'S WHY I PUT 'EM IN THE ADS."

There's an old saying... "READ THE FINE PRINT." So if you'll take the time to read the small items in our ADS you'll be able to save yourself some money each week.

JUST AS AN EXAMPLE OF WHAT I'M TALKING ABOUT, WHEN WE WERE CHECKING OUR COMPETITORS' PRICES THE OTHER DAY WE FOUND ONE WHO ADVERTISES 3 OR 4 SPECIALS IN HIS ADS EACH WEEK. WAS GETTING MUCH MORE ON A LOT OF ITEMS FOR INSTANCE HE WAS GETTING 38¢ MORE ON BABY FOOD THAN WE DO... IT JUST DOESN'T MAKE SENSE, DOES IT?

3 Days in Jail, $225 Fine in Traffic Case

Paul E. Batson, 24, of 2819 Roosevelt street, was fined $225 and sentenced to three days in jail Tuesday following his arrest on five traffic charges by Madison police.

While Batson was picked up by police about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday for driving a sports car with "loud pipes," the charges against him grew out of a police chase on the night of July 5 when two squad cars were unable to overtake a car identified as that which Batson was driving when he was stopped Tuesday morning.

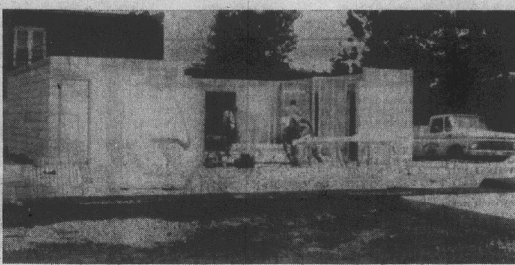

Batson was stopped Tuesday in the 1000 block of Madison avenue and officers recognized the car as that involved in the July 5 chase. Batson was ordered to drive to the Madison police station where Patrolman Ronald Graywacz, who had taken part in the July 5 chase, identified the car.

Graywacz filed three charges of passing stop signs, driving without a driver's license and failing to heed a red light and siren.

Motorist Issued ROW Ticket after Crash

A collision at Leonard and Myrtle avenues at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday resulted in a ticket being issued to Russell N. Bailey, 2538 Lincoln avenue, who was charged with failure to yield right-of-way with a stop sign present.

The second vehicle, operated by Sandra Demery, 2919 Marshall avenue, was traveling south on Leonard avenue.

NEW BURGER CHEF building at 1118 Madison avenue takes shape as construction progresses. Harvey Hieken, owner of a Madison clothing store, is owner-developer. Building cost is estimated at $35,000. No opening date has yet been announced.

The League of Mercy visited 192 patients in the hospitals, 179 of them at Scott Air Force Base Hospital, and 61 other calls were made. A total of 91 hours was given in visitation and 184 hours of volunteer service was rendered. Two visits were made to the St. Louis Induction Center with 138 men given gift packs.

A total of 6 individuals received material assistance from the Welfare Office located on 19th street near Delmar avenue, and expenditures for the month were $3462. The income was $3258.

A. C. Stoeber, chairman of the property committee, reported Brigadier John W. Patton, divisional commander, will be guest at the Sept. 9 meeting to discuss further property acquisition plans with the board. Richard West, finance committee chairman, reported the budget hearing with the United Fund would take place July 24 at 6:30 p.m.

GC Tax Payments Pass $1 Million Mark in 16 Days

Granite City tax collections passed the million-dollar mark yesterday with payments totaling $1,033,318, according to City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich.

Rich said receipts as of yesterday represented 16 actual collection days since acceptance of tax payments at his office was begun June 24.

Collections to date include payments of $764,207 in real estate taxes and $269,111 in personal property taxes for the $1,033,318 total.

In Venice township, Collector Frank Reidelberger reported total collections of $513,833 for the same 16-day collection period. Reidelberger started collections for Venice township on June 24, same date that Granite City began collections.

Closing Dates Set
Reidelberger said he will shut off local collections at the close of the day's business at 3 p.m. July 31. The Granite City collection period will end at the close of the day's business at 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 23, Rich said.

Rich said he already has made distribution of $100,000 in tax monies to the Granite City park district, and $85,000 to Granite City township, and is making arrangements to distribute funds to Granite City School District 9 soon. Reidelberger said he has made no local distributions to any of the Venice township taxing agencies, but expects to do so soon. Granite City taxpayers are charged with payment of $7,638,275, while Venice township taxpayers are due to pay $2,272,328 in local taxes.

HERE SHE IS—MISS GRANITE CITY, Leetta Marmion, who is the Miss Illinois Pageant at Aurora this week. Miss Illinois is to be named Saturday.

Miss GC Still in Running In Miss Illinois Pageant

"Illinois has so many well-groomed and lovely young women, it is truly an experience just being here," was the comment of Miss Granite City, Leetta Marmion, who is competing this week at the Miss Illinois Pageant in Aurora.

Judges are to announce the name of Miss Illinois on Saturday night. The local beauty who was selected to represent the community at the Jaycee-sponsored Miss Granite City Pageant last month, made the remark yesterday to her official chaperone, Miss Diane Nocheff, a Marshall grade school teacher, who is her only contact with the outside world for the duration of the state contest.

Miss Marmion and several other contestants are reportedly housed in an Aurora College dormitory which is not air conditioned and whose windows remain firmly closed despite the best efforts of the candidate to open them. Many of the girls are suffering with the heat, especially in our rooms at night, she said.

The accommodations, otherwise, are very good and the girls and their chaperones enjoyed a pizza party Tuesday evening in the dormitories, Miss Nocheff told Richard Domitrovich, a Granite City Jaycee and Miss Marmion's official manager.

GC Jaycee President Richard A. Dawdy said today that television coverage of the pageant finals on Saturday evening still remains in doubt due to the strike of communication workers. The final phase of competition was scheduled to be telecast over Channel 11, it was learned.

A large group of local Jaycees and their wives expect to travel to Aurora this weekend to witness the state contest and provide encouragement to the Granite City candidate, Dawdy said.

Rotary Club Hears Park Prexy Kozyak

William Kozyak, the newly-elected president of the Granite City park board, was guest speaker Tuesday at the Granite City Rotary club luncheon meeting at the YMCA.

In his talk, Kozyak reviewed the present programs of the park district, especially for the young people in summer projects. He also told the group about plans for expansion of the park district and new activities and of the construction of the ice rink and the proceeds realized from this newest program.

Warren Decatur, president, presided over the business meeting, announcing the Rotarians and their wives will attend a baseball game on Monday in St. Louis. The bus will leave the Rose Bowl at 5:15 p.m. and will return there for an 8 o'clock dinner. Reservations may still be made with Ray Ruffer at 876-0661 until Friday evening.

Chris Hoskin III, deputy commander, extended an invitation to all Rotarians to attend the retirement ceremony and parade for Major Gen. Alden Kinsley Sibley, deputy commanding general of the reserve forces, Fifth U.S. Army, to be held at the Granite City Depot, Tuesday, July 30th at 3:30 p.m.

Chris Pashoff will prepare the program for the next meeting on Tuesday, July 23.

Vice-president Carl Mathias appointed his committee and chairman to serve on a living research project, "Modern Lying Show," which will be held Sept. 18, 19, 20 and 21 at the rink pavilion at Wilson Park. Tentative plans are being discussed for a carnival program to be included for prizes to be given away. Proceeds from the project will be used for a civic community program.

Adequate Airport Area

According to Nichols the old airport area as well as the thousands of acres of flat land around it would provide the most adequate area for a major airport of any in the tri-county region of Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

That area has been reported as one of three sites under study for location of a major airport. Lightly occupied by only a few farms, the section of almost perfectly flat land extends from Interstate 70 on the south to State Route 35 on the north, and from Route 111 eastward to the bluffs.

As the Illinois legislative session got under way Monday, the Senate failed for the second time to override a veto by former Gov. Otto Kerner on a stop-and-frisk bill.

The vote was on party lines with a two-thirds margin needed to overturn the veto. The vote was 36 Republicans voting, with a minimum of 39 votes needed, and 17 Democrats voting no.

Gov. Samuel Shapiro, however, introduced a new stop-and-frisk bill. It was advanced to passage stage Tuesday but apparently was to be recalled for amendments prepared by a number of Republicans.

Strong likelihood that an agreement will be reached on a bipartisan basis for adoption of the measure will be needed a two-thirds majority bill to become effective immediately.

MADISON POLICE

East St. Louis police concerning the robbery and that the men were believed headed toward Madison or Venice in a 1967 model, white station wagon.

Spotted Auto

A few minutes later, Patrolman Ronald Graywacz, cruising just south of the McCambridge avenue viaduct, saw the car pull into the Derby Service station.

Graywacz ordered two men out of the car at gunpoint and then called out the other two who had gone into the office of the service station. Two other police cars arrived and a search of the men produced a .22 caliber pistol which officers said was taken from William St. Clair bills were found on the floor of the car.

Madison police said the four men fit descriptions of the men who committed robberies in Wellston, Mo., and in St. Clair county the same night.

4 Jr. High Schools To Form Own PTAs

Plans favoring the formation of a single PTA unit to represent the four Granite City junior high schools have been postponed indefinitely to permit each school an opportunity to organize its own unit or reactivate a former unit, Mrs. Twila McKinney, Granite City PTA Area Council president, announced today.

A decision to delay initiating the new approach to junior high school PTA consolidation, in an effort to spur interest and attendance, was made at a meeting of representative parents from the four schools, held Monday evening in Coolidge cafeteria.

Mrs. McKinney said that two parents whose children will attend the new Grigsby junior high this fall spoke against the single unit proposal, stating their belief that parents at the area's newest school should have an opportunity to establish their own unit.

Parent-Teacher groups currently exist at each grade school in Granite City and at Coolidge junior school. None are presently in force at Prater or Central schools, however, both junior highs had active PTA groups in recent years, Mrs. McKinney explained.

Mrs. McKinney said that representatives from the area council are ready to assist any school in reactivating its program, or form a new unit. She urged interested parents to contact her personally at 877-8548 for information relating to organizing procedures.

In other business Monday evening, parents attending heard a talk by F. S. Nagy, president of the North junior high school PTA in Alton, who discussed successful PTA programs in the Alton area. He stressed the importance of a school administration interested in PTA work and active principal-teacher participation in programs.

Nagy commented that junior high school PTA meetings in the Alton community are generally well attended by parents and faculty members.

The theme will be "Roaring Twenties," and those who attend are asked to come in costume or sports clothes. Phyllis Hodge is chairman of the food committee and Mrs. Betty Harmon, chairman of decorations. Entertainment is to be provided by members of the housewives hour and board of directors.

Pond Weeds and Algae

The usual large number of questions are being asked by farm pond owners about how to get rid of pond weeds and algae.

Several herbicides for controlling pond weeds are available. There are many different kinds of pond weeds. A given herbicide will control certain weeds and not others. So you need to know the kind of weed to decide what herbicide to use. Pictures of common pond weeds are printed in a State of Illinois Division of Fisheries circular entitled "Aquatic Weeds". Control measures of each kind of weed are listed in the 32-page publication. Ask for a copy at the county extension office.

Algae — also called water bloom and pond scum — can be easily controlled in farm ponds with copper sulfate. Such treatment is very effective and not expensive. Copper sulfate is not toxic to fish or other animals when used at recommended dosages.

To control algae, treat with a solution of copper sulfate as a dosage of 1.0 part per million for the upper two feet of water only. This requires 5.4 pounds of copper sulfate for each surface-acre of water.

Pond scum treatment with a saturated solution (all the copper sulfate that will dissolve in a given volume of water) directly on the affected area. More details are given in the "Aquatic Weeds" circular referred to above.

If you consider yourself a good swimmer, here's something to keep in mind: At least half the 7000 people who drowned in the United States last year thought they were good swimmers too.

Even the best swimmer can misjudge his ability. One of the best water safety precautions is to be a little humble about how well you can swim, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist, University of Illinois.

That many other victims of water mishaps are non-swimmers makes it obvious that time spent learning to swim is important. And whether you've learned to swim or not, wearing a life jacket when boating or water skiing makes you both legal and smart.

Swimming Safety Hints
Here are other safety practices Hogsett recommends for those summer recreation plans that include swimming or boating:

Put a child-proof fence around your pool or pond. When toddlers and small children are around water, provide constant adult supervision.

If you're building a pond, locate it away from any possible drainage from barnyards or sewers.

Get out of the water when a lightning storm comes up. Get someone to swim with you, or at least have someone nearby if you swim alone. When loading a boat, distribute the load evenly and don't take on more passengers than the craft's rated capacity. Require everyone in the boat to

Vocational Education Act to Benefit Area

Two legislative measures of significance to the Quad-City area and Madison county have been overwhelmingly approved by the House at Washington as it continued its rush to adjourn before the National Nominating Conventions next month. Cong. Melvin (D-East St. Louis) announced today.

Both measures—the Vocational Education Act and the National Trails Systems Act—were introduced by Cong. Price.

He said the Vocational Education Act authorizes sizeable funding for two years, $15 million in fiscal 1969 and $15 million in fiscal 1970, for residential Vocational Education facilities. Cong. Price has been striving to obtain a residential vocational school for Madison and St. Clair county under this bill.

Federal funds can be used for financing up to 90% of the cost of planning, construction and operation of a school for youths between 14 and 21 years of age.

The National Trails Systems Act will recognize the Lewis and Clark heritage under a provision-making Wood River the eastern terminus of the Lewis and Clark Trail which will extend west to Oregon along the path originally followed by the trail breakers.

wear a life jacket. Learn mouth-to-mouth, resuscitation. Above all, don't overestimate your ability.

Cattacing and Blossom-End Rot on Tomatoes

Many of the tomatoes now on the vines are cattaced or distorted. Some blossom-end rot is also present in many plantings.

The exact cause of the cattacing is not known. Surely, all plantings were not made in the wrong sign of the moon.

Weather is the principal scapegoat this year. Extremes in temperatures and moisture effect plant growth and fruiting in many ways. Low temperatures especially, causes poor pollination which results in distorted, one-sided fruits. Even the record low June 27 and 28 may effect this. Once the temperatures exceed 90 degrees, many of the flowers drop off without pollinating. It is possible that some of the cattacing could be due to 2-4-5 weed killer injury. If this material is the cause, the tomato leaves will be extremely twisted and crinkled.

Blossom-end rot is extremely prevalent on stalked tomatoes this year. It tends to be worse on pruned plants, or on droughty locations. Avoid such locations or provide a much and ample water for best results.

Infected fruits should be picked off when they are seen so that the healthy fruits have room to develop normally.

Summer Care of Raspberries
Raspberry harvest is finished for this year. For the biggest and sweetest berries next year, spend a little time and effort now.

The dead or dying fruiting canes, and the broken or weak new canes should be pruned out. If galls are discovered on any canes, remove the entire plant. These prunings should be burned to destroy any diseases on them.

The pruning should be followed with a spray of ferbam or zineb for anthracnose control. Include either kethane or malathion for mites. One spray is good, but two sprays two weeks apart are better.

This is a good time to obtain a supply of straw to mulch the planting. A mulch will help conserve moisture, promote better cane growth, and control weeds.

Do not fertilize at this time unless the plants are very weak. Fertilizers should normally be applied in late winter. However, weak plants can be treated with one pound of 12-12-12 fertilizer for every 25 feet of row.

Treat Peach Borers Now
This is the time to treat peach trees for peach borers. This is the pest that bores under the bark of the tree trunk just below the surface of the soil. Severe gumming, girdling and tree loss occurs if nothing is done to stop these insects. Apricots, cherries and plums can be attacked as well as peaches.

In past years (and today when other treatments are not applied), these borers were killed by digging them out with a knife. The easy way for you is to spray the trunk of the tree with a better way for the insecticide now, and again on August first.

Mix six tablespoons of either 50% DDT or carbaryl (sevin) per gallon of water and spray the tree trunk thoroughly. Keep the spray off of ripening fruits. Trees of all ages should be treated. Repeat again on Aug. 1.

A check for gum at the ground line in late September will tell you if the chemical treatments were effective or if you must again resort to the knife and dig method.

Early Bird Gets Best Fruit
Gardeners in the area are feeding more birds in their gardens than ever before. Birds save a knack for sampling the biggest and best of the fruits and vegetables. They really like fruits, but sweet corn is a tempting main course for blackbirds.

Commercial growers usually plant enough for the birds and themselves too. The home gardener may find this impossible to do and must seek other control measures.

Miniature aluminum pie tins, aluminum strips, tin cans, rooster bones, and scare crows can be used to try to scare the birds away. Sometimes they do and sometimes they don't.

For more positive control, cheesecloth or nylon netting are available. These can be used to protect certain areas or plants. The acrylic webbing that is available for this type of protection is not satisfactory and creates more of a tangle than protection.

There is evidence that bird damage to gardens is worse in dry years. A source of water for our feathered friends may be the right approach.

Garden Netting
Corn earworms or sweet corn can be reduced by spraying or dusting the silks with carbaryl (sevin) every other day from the time they show until a week before harvest.

2. Quoted numbers should be kept picked through the season for greater yields. Plants tend to slow down in fruit set if many old "cukes" are allowed to mature.

3. Ripening peaches and plums should be sprayed or dusted with captan every five days up to the day of harvest. This will help protect against the brown rot disease so prevalent in this area.

4. Gardens need at least an inch of water a week for best growth. Keep them watered as the season stays dry. Remember to water the trees that were planted this spring also.

5. Plant sweet corn and snap beans now if the ground is workable. A small investment in the ground will give some good eating later this fall.

6. Keep weeds under control. A sharp hoe is one of the best methods. Uncontrolled weeds now will produce seed for an expanded population next year.

New Theory of Gardening

Too much hoeing and cultivating slows down growth. Lots of complicated experiments have proven too much hoeing harms the plant by pruning the roots and disturbing the soil. The best growth occurs when there is no cultivating.

But here is the riddle! How can you get rid of weeds without hoeing and cultivating? Home gardeners are already using lots of good methods. Some use straw to mulch potatoes. The same idea will work with tomatoes, melons, peppers.

Landscapers use gravel and mulches to control weeds in shrubs. You can adapt the same idea to flower and vegetable beds by using black plastic ground covers, compost or a variety of other materials.

Hoeing is still necessary in lots of situations, but the strategy has changed. Hoe very shallow to kill weeds but do not disturb the plant. Never deep cultivate unless you want to prune the roots and slow down the plant.

Chrysanthemums
Summer pruning and extra fertilizer is the secret to beautiful chrysanthemums.

Fall blooming chrysanthemums can be grown as short stemmed bushes if you prune down to six inch stubs and thin the clump. One last pruning this week will not harm the flower color or size, but will produce a short compact clump.

Prune off the entire clump to six inch stubs. After pruning, pull out the thin stems so only five or six of the largest stems remain. Less competition for water, sunshine and fertilizer will result in strong growth and extra beauty.

Fertilizing with 12-12-12 or a lawn fertilizer will give them an extra boost and extra quality. Punch holes six inches deep near the clump on four sides and put a large teaspoon of fertilizer in each hole. Thorough watering will help the fertilizer dissolve. Occasional deep watering during July and August and your extra fertilizer will produce the finest chrysanthemums you have ever grown.

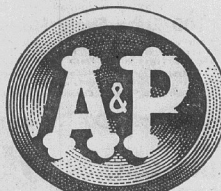

Pincushion mums are a special dwarf variety. Use the extra fertilizer and water but do not prune these dwarf varieties. Pincushion mums will be dwarf and flower in August without pruning. But extra fertilizer and water will give these extra beauty too.

It is still not too late to divide some favorite clumps. After pruning, use a shovel to cut the clump into two or three portions. Carefully transplant each portion to a new location. You may decide to replant in the same location after you remove weeds and add fertilizer.

Haitian Dance Group To Appear at SIU-SW

Jean-Leon Destine and his Haitian Dance Company will appear at the Southern Illinois University-Southern campus at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the Communications building theater. The public is invited admission free to this "Caribbean Festival."

Destine, dancer, choreographer and director, was the first person to recognize the Vodun dances as great art. Commonly referred to as Voodoo, Vodun is usually identified in the public mind with witchcraft and black magic. In reality it is a complicated system of beliefs and practices which claim to deal with the spiritual forces of the universe.

On their long journey to the New World from Africa, the slaves brought with them not only their customs and traditions but also the spirit of Africa and Vodun. This African folk religion and its beliefs are entwined with complex patterns of ceremonies comprising numerous songs and dances.

Mexican Artifacts being Catalogued by SIU Team

A house full of pottery, stone-ware, bone tools and metal pieces representing more than 1000 years of culture in northern Mexico is being sorted and catalogued at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

The painstaking analysis marks a milestone in the archaeological research effort by SIU, the most extensive ever undertaken in the Mexican provinces of Jalisco, Zacatecas and Durango.

Since 1952, archaeological field teams under SIU's museum director, J. Charles Kelley, have combed the ancient sites of the Indians who lived on the northern frontier of Mesamerica. Those prehistoric cultures have links to the Indians of the American southwest.

It was the SIU research group—now called the Mesamerican Cooperative Research Program—that first showed the Pueblos were an outpost of the Chalcu-huites culture south of what is now the border.

The National Science Foundation has awarded Kelley a $15,200 grant for the one year project. The end result will be a large illustrated volume chronicling and describing the life of frontier Mesamericans from 100 A.D. until their still unexplained disappearance in the 1300's.

SIU Prof Given Grant For Study of Cancer

An SIU chemistry professor has been awarded a grant for a four-year study which could shed some light on the mysteries of cancer.

The grant was awarded to Herbert I. Hadler, associate professor of chemistry at Carbondale, by the Public Health Service. It totals about $17,000.

The grant will be used to study carcinogenic polynuclear hydrocarbons, which, Hadler says, "are similar to compounds found in our modern atmosphere and in cigarette smoke." Since the 1930's, it has been known that these compounds will produce cancer in experimental animals, he says. He plans to administer one of the most potent of these compounds to animals and determine what new compounds it is transformed into by the animals' metabolism.

Hadler says he hopes to find how normal biological processes are interfered with by the original compound and those new compounds which are formed. This, he says, may shed some light on how cancer is caused.

Of the total grant of $17,000, about $16,625 will be used to cover the direct expenses of the study and the rest will go to the university for overhead expenses.

U. of I. Hospitals Plan Transplant Center

Plans for the development of an extensive organ transplant center were announced last week by the University of Illinois Hospitals. A kidney transplant program has been underway at the hospital for some time, and the new center will allow for marked expansion of the program, authorities say.

The center will provide facilities for the pre- and post-operative care of patients receiving transplanted organs, including the kidney, liver and heart. Dr. Lloyd Nyhus, who is the Warren H. Cole professor and head of the department of surgery of the Illinois University College of Medicine, will direct the program.

Researchers at the hospital emphasized the importance of transplanting organs only between patients who have compatible tissue antigens — these are similar to blood group types. Although tissue typing is in its infancy compared to blood group typing, they noted that success or failure of organ transplantation, to date, has correlated extremely well with the available techniques of tissue typing.

Organ transplantation at the institution is now based on tissue typing, and the new facilities will permit rapid expansion of the program, they report.

ISU Initiates Program For Adult Education

Illinois State University at Normal has initiated a new program of continuing education aimed at encouraging more adults to begin or resume college course work.

ISU has had offerings for adults, as well as younger students, at all times in the past, but under the new program, is providing additional assistance in getting persons who have been out of school for a time started in college work.

Dr. Francis Brown, director of extension and field services, said the program is for those whose education has been interrupted and who wish to return to school; persons whose job indicates a need for more education; those wishing to prepare for a new occupation; persons whose marital situations may have changed, creating a need to prepare for a vocation, or for those who have a desire for a new purpose in life.

Adults may enter as unclassified students, take part or full-time study, and receive assistance in planning courses around their jobs, home and family responsibilities.

Brown cited one case where a widow with a large family was working at an inadequate salary to support her children. Through individualized counseling help at the university, she was able to enroll on a full-time basis, and through scholarship, grant and other aid from federal and public agencies, is now receiving more money than she did from her job and is en route to earning a college degree as well.

Afternoons are being spent on tours of historical and cultural sights.

The other four days of the week are being spent in sight-seeing and in individual activities. The students are housed in regular dormitories of universities.

28 SIU-SW Students In Summer EHE Work

Summer field work assignments have taken Southern Illinois University-Southern students from the campus to nine states and the U. S. Territory of Guam.

The 28 students, who will be on assignment until August, are in the Experiment in Higher Education (EHE) program centered at East St. Louis. They are stationed from the island of Guam to Philadelphia, Pa., serving as tutoring counselors in the federally sponsored Upward Bound program.

Each is associated with the special residence sessions on a college or university campus. Upward Bound is a program designed to benefit the alleged under-achiever of high school age. Theme for the national program is "The Ageless Community of Man."

The SIU-SW students in the field work program are finishing their second year in EHE, a program jointly funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity and the state of Illinois. The college-level program is geared to the alleged high-risk, disadvantaged high school graduate. Its design in curriculum allows the community to serve as the classroom.

A program of occasional horseback riding has been added to the schedule of the Metro-East YMCA camp, according to Charles Hasse, local "Y" youth director who will be program director at the camp.

Two sessions, Aug. 11-17 and 18-24, will be held at Grassy lake near Carbondale. The camp is open to boys and girls who have completed the third through the eighth grades.

Openings remain in both sessions, and others interested should register as soon as possible at the "Y," Hasse said. The fee is $42 for one period or $82 for both.

In addition to horseback riding, which will be open to beginners and elective for those wishing to participate, a program of small group activities and events are planned, including evening camp fires, cookouts, swimming, row boating, canoeing, hiking, archery, handicraft, movies and singing.

Price Hails Committee To Investigate Crime

Citing the spiraling rates of crime and violence in American cities, Congressman Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, "hailed" the House of Representatives for creating a joint House-Senate Committee to investigate crime. Price was an original cosponsor of the proposal in the House. The Senate must complete action on this measure before the committee can function.

Price pointed out, "The creation of the new crime probing committee provides one more piece in a growing chain of legislative evidence that the Congress is disturbed by the appalling crime rates reported by the FBI in recent years. The new Committee to investigate crime would be composed of seven Representatives and seven Senators and would be authorized to make continuous investigations and studies into all aspects of crime in the United States. It would report its recommendations directly to both Houses of the Congress."

"This committee must be prepared to make some hard decisions—its got to come up with some rock hard and realistic proposal for assisting local law enforcement agencies in combating crime," Price said.

Council Dumps Urban Renewal Problem on 'Committee'

Granite City council members vented their ire on Urban Renewal during Monday night's session, stressing again they did not want to launch a program in the vicinity of St. Elizabeth Hospital and force old people to move from family homesteads.

Nonn, who was critical of the Press-Record for its stand in urging improvement to the downtown area, commented, "The newspaper has been pigging us every week, but what do they want in the downtown area instead of just a bunch of empty lots."

"Let the Chamber of Commerce and the Retailers come in and show us what they can do. We need to know what they want in the downtown area, but not in that area behind the hospital where the city would be taking people's homes."

The discussion was started with receipt of a letter from the Long Range Planning committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, answering a council-raised question on local credits applicable to finance the city's share of the program.

The C. of C. committee noted the city did have $400,000, or full credit, when application was made in 1967, but that the present amount available for credit is $206,000 that will shrink by $30,755 in November because of a three-year limitation.

Requested by the C. of C. committee is an in-depth study of potential local fund sources, both public and private, to permit maximum revitalization of blighted neighborhoods.

The request was referred to the council's Planning and Zoning committee.

Alderman Fry was critical of Nonn's comments. "You're not speaking for me. The city could have carried out this program without cost, and now it's going to cost us money. The newspaper has every right to be critical of council members who block this program."

Basarich joined forces with Nonn. "Let the retailers put in some public restrooms before they jump on us. We don't want to chase these old people out."

Nonn added that to tear down good buildings in the area around the hospital would result in tax losses to the city.

Fry replied that a 20% cut in property values was given the downtown area. "And Nonn said nothing about that."

Handed Down for Generations
Alderman Green pointed out that homes in the vicinity of the hospital had been handed down from generation to generation and that it would be impractical for people to move and over to try to finance new homes.

Progress toward removing blight had been available to the city, Alderman Rutledge commented. "We've spun our wheels too long now. I feel that Urban Renewal is dead in Granite City."

No further debate ensued after Rutledge's remarks as the council voted to refer the matter to committee — a matter of just for council members who currently are engaged in a running feud with the mayor over double committee appointments.

The text of the letter to the council from the C. of C. Long Range planning committee, headed by C. E. Townsend, editor-publisher of the Press-Record, follows:

"When members of the Long Range Planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities last appeared before you in support of a $1.7 million urban renewal project adjacent to St. Elizabeth Hospital and the downtown business district, there was question raised as to the amount of local funds or 'credits' currently available.

"Through the cooperation of Harland Bartholomew & Associates, who prepared the city's original urban renewal project application in 1967, and St. Elizabeth Hospital, we are now able to answer this question.

No Direct Cost to City
"As you may recall, the project was to be financed at no direct cost to Granite City. The money was to come from two sources: — approximately $1.3 million in federal aid and $400,000 in 'credits' based on property acquisitions by the hospital. The 'credit' formula is somewhat complex but, in general, eligibility is based on property purchased and/or demolished within three years of the date of purchase. No credit is given for improvements.

"Due to lapse of time and the inclusion of some ineligible items in the original application, the amount of 'credits' presently available is about $205,000. This includes $168,467 in property bought by the hospital and $38,500 spent on demolition since 1965. In this connection, it might be pointed out that these 'credits' will shrink another $30,755 in November 1968 because of the three-year time limitation.

"Unless the city can provide additional funds, to supplement the 'credits,' or obtain money from other sources, it is clear that the original rehabilitation proposal no longer is financially possible. And extension of the urban renewal project into more of the downtown business district, as some aidermen favored, is an even greater problem.

Must Find a Way
While this is discouraging, our committee is firmly convinced that Granite City must find a way to reverse the downward trend in property values in substandard areas. The alternative is blight, health problems, reduced public services and less revenue to the city from sales and property taxes.

"We urgently recommend to the city council that an in-depth study be made of potential local fund sources, both public and private, which will permit maximum revitalization of blighted neighborhoods and fullest utilization of federal aid. Proratisation can only result

Media Book Is Entertaining But Raises Unanswerable Questions

The "New Mass Media Challenge to a Free Society" by Gilbert Seldes, Public Affairs Press, Washington, 1968; 100 pages, $2.50 paperback.

Reviewed by L. Erwin Atwood, member of the Department of Journalism faculty of Southern Illinois University.

(Review published in the Daily Egyptian, SIU Department of Journalism, Carbondale.)

This volume is a reprint of a 1961 version of a 1957 publication designed to be a study guide for adults who wished to examine the mass media.

While the emphasis is directed toward the effects of television, one might question how "new" television is, and certain radio, movies and the newspaper are "old" in comparison with the bulk of today's population.

The questions posed by this volume are just as unanswerable today as when they were first formulated, however.

Many years ago it was that someone might have asked possibly about the penny press, "Do the mass media operate in such a way as to encourage conformity and dependence?"

The answer still remains, "Who knows?"

Conformity to what? Dependence upon what?

Is there more conformity in behavior today than there was in the small isolated community of 100 years ago? In what kinds of behavior?

Is the conformity as rigidly enforced or is it more voluntary today? Is there less possible today just because people from coast to coast may be exposed to the same media content?

Apparently there is little real concern for the issue.

During the past 11 years since the volume was first published, no one has managed to measure degrees of conformity behavior with which we can compare future conformity behavior.

Indeed, precisely what is meant by conformity is not clearly specified.

Who conforms most, people in an industrial society or people in a primitive society? Argument on the issue is little more than intellectual exercise.

Opinions are diverse, and characteristically, empirical data are not necessary for opinion formation. Data, of course, might spoil the argument by indicating one or more positions are untenable.

One other equally unanswerable question is, "What is the social responsibility of the managers of the new mass media?"

Worse yet, there appears to be little effort made to rephrase the question or ask a new question that might be subject to answer.

Eleven years after Seldes related the question we are still in no position to say what the social responsibility of the media managers is or should be, though it is to make the judgment?

A theory of social responsibility exists, but it is virtually useless in explaining how the mass media operates today.

It is a nice theory, but it must be applied to something other than today's mass media before it has either explanatory or predictive value.

These are just two of the unanswerable questions Seldes presents.

However, unanswerable questions can provide entertainment value just as much as the cartoons some media critics contend so vigorously in that sense, the volume may have been worth reprinting.

Pay-As-You-Build Federal Highway Financing Provided By The Users

(Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois)

Prior to 1956, revenues from all federal excise taxes on motor fuels, motor vehicles and related products were placed in the general fund of the U. S. Treasury, as are the revenues from practically all other federal taxes. Appropriations for federal aid to the states for highway purposes were made from the general fund.

This pattern was completely changed with the passage by Congress of the Federal-Aid Highway and Revenue Acts of 1956.

These Acts increased the size of the federal aid program for improvement of main highways, secondary roads and urban arterial included in the federal aid primary and secondary systems (the "A & B" program), and provided for an earlier completion of the Interstate and Defense highways.

To pay for these programs, Congress increased some of the highway-related excise taxes and levied some new ones.

It earmarked the revenues of most of the highway-related excise taxes to go to the Highway Trust Fund, which the 1956 legislation created. This Trust Fund became the sole source of revenue for the A & B Interstate programs for the period 1957-72.

The federal aid program was put on a wholly highway-user-supported, pay-as-you-build basis.

All of the revenues from federal taxes on motor fuel, motor vehicles, rubber trucks, buses, trailers, lubricating oils, truck and bus parts and accessories, and heavy vehicle use go to the Trust Fund and are used only for the highway or more class.

The highway-related excise tax not dedicated to the Trust Fund (the one on new automobiles) is treated as general revenue.

Dedicated to Highway Trust Fund:

- Motor fuel, 4c per gallon.
- Rubber: Tires, 10c per pound.
- Tubes, 5c per pound. Retread, 5c per pound.
- New trucks, buses and trailers, 10% of manufacturer's sale price.
- Annual heavy vehicle use tax, $3 per 1000 pounds (levied on total weight of vehicles in 26,000 pounds or more class).
- Lubricating oil, 6c per gallon.
- Truck and bus parts and accessories, 1c per $100 of price.

Highway-related excise tax to General Revenue:

- New automobiles, 7% of manufacturer's sales price.

The total amount of such federal taxes and levies paid by highway users in all states in 1967 was $5,523,960,000, of which Illinois highway users paid $300,229,000 or 5.4%.

50 YEARS AGO

July 18, 1918

Members of Troop One, Granite City Boy Scouts, are having a great time camping in the Ozark mountains near Iron Mountain. The 28 scouts, Scoutmaster Webb and Assistant Scoutmaster Carl Graham departed July 6 and plan to break camp July 23, hiking back part of the way. They have hiked to the Shut Ins, Castle Killarney and an old settler's cabin containing many relics, and plan to visit the St. Francis River, Elephant Rock and Pilot Knob.

Hearing of evidence in the petition of coal dealers seeking increased rates has been continued until July 29 by District Fuel Administrator Baxter.

A large planing mill of the Kettle River Creosote Works in Madison was destroyed in a fire which broke out at 11:30 p.m. and consumed the entire plant and lumber yard. Firefighting apparatus from Granite City and East St. Louis aided the Madison department. Damage was estimated at $80,000. It is believed the fire started from sparks falling from an engine which passed near the planing mill, igniting a pile of sawdust.

Mrs. William Ward and Mrs. Luke Owens were hostesses to the Golden Circle class of Central Christian Church at the Owens home. Mrs. Esther Prichett, vice-president, presided and an all-day boat excursion was planned.

Mrs. Johnson, 2127 D street, entertained the Security club, with the time spent singing. Members present were Miss Kate Carmody and Mesdames Hjelm, Delbow, Lyons, Robert Craven, George Chappin, A. H. C. S. A. Rippey, William Savage and W. A. Dameron.

Blood Protection Bargain Available to Quad-Citians

One of the greatest bargains ever offered to Quad-Citians is now available: full protection for the blood needs of themselves and members of their family if 25% of the members of their group give a pint of blood during the year.

The stage was set for organizational blood programs here two years ago with approval of a cooperative agreement between St. Elizabeth Hospital and the Tri-City chapter of the American Red Cross. However, because the operation of blood centers had to be financed, it was necessary to expand the program only gradually at first.

A study of participation (1300 pints in 1967) of United Fund health service funds now indicates that the "green light" can be given to all unions, clubs, chapters, posts and even informal organizations.

What this means is that, with only 25% of the members giving, there is a guarantee of needed blood for 100% of the members and also for close relatives of 100% of the members. The family definition includes spouse, children living at home, parents, parents-in-law, grandparents and grandparents-in-law.

Anyone who remembers the desperate situations which have confronted some families is aware of the importance of having blood available to them in whatever amounts needed, and at cost ($70) instead of the regular charge of $25 to $30 a pint.

Other important advantages are the file of blood types, enabling rare kinds to be located faster, and the Red Cross program of providing blood for open heart surgery, rather than the patient's family having to assemble large numbers of prospective donors simultaneously on the day of the operation.

Large numbers of Quad-Citians are unprotected regarding their blood needs today. Fortunately for their health and their pocketbook, it will now be simple for them to remedy this problem—if they take the trouble to do so before an emergency develops.

GOP Planning Active Campaign

It's been a long time since we can recall seeing pre-election billboards naming Madison county Republican nominees. A few are beginning to appear throughout the county this summer, reflecting GOP determination to restore a viable two-party system here starting with the Nov. 5 balloting.

1968's Really Big Crisis Solved by Guaranteed Annual Football Season

(Wall Street Journal)

The Council of Economic Advisors had "war games" the possibilities hundreds of times. Only half-heartedly, they persisted in issuing mildly optimistic assessments of the economy. But deep underground in federal emergency planning centers, their worst fears were being confirmed.

Computers were spewing out ominous indicators of a downturn: Beer sales were slipping. Meat packers reported a disquieting inventory buildup in frankfurters.

A parking lot executive had called a special news conference to caution that 1968 might not be a record year, after all.

The conclusion was all too clear. The pro football strike threatened to throw the economy for a loss.

NLRB negotiators had huddled with players and team owners in the clock-tick bargaining. Substitutions were forbidden.

Finally, the parties had agreed to play some pre-season games, even as talks proceeded. But the strike had collapsed at halftime during one of the exhibition games at the Cotton Bowl. The players stalked off the field and the National Guard—which had been alerted—had to restrain the crowd.

The President that evening went on television and ordered. The baseball leagues, he announced, had agreed to extend their seasons until mid-December.

The Commerce Department proposed a crash program to build hockey stadiums around the country. And the Department of Health, Education and Welfare authorized a temporary appropriation to keep sports teams in business.

Discounting a few fist fights among bettors who wagered on the exhibition games, the President's speech was generally effective. (The FBI did have to investigate an incident at the football Hall of Fame in Canton, O., where Pete Rozelle was hung in effigy.)

The emergency indicated, however, that the emergency measures weren't offsetting the effects of the strike.

One shivering cream manufacturer called a press conference at the White House, the advisers declared the likely consequences. "Uniform manufacturers were talking of layoffs. And some social workers began studying delinquency among stadium vendors."

Around the country, general ennuis set in. A few television stations, in the meantime, dropped tapes of old pro games on Sunday afternoon but were quickly ordered to discontinue the practice from an all-pro list averaging 275 pounds.

One shivering cream manufacturer called a press conference at the White House, the advisers declared the likely consequences. "Uniform manufacturers were talking of layoffs. And some social workers began studying delinquency among stadium vendors."

LIQUOR SALES CAUSE PROBLEMS, SOLVE NONE

To the Editor:

Listed here are some things the liquor business does not want:

1. Restore health to a single alcoholic it makes.
2. Restore peace and love to a home where there has been an alcohol-caused divorce.
3. Bring back life to an alcoholic caused death on the highway.
4. Pay enough taxes to pay for the extra pollution it requires.
5. Pay the grocery bills of the needy.
6. Promote the recovery of the sick.
7. Promote education for our children.
8. Make workers dependable and steady at their jobs.
9. Bring happiness into the land.
10. Establish peace among nations.
11. Put joy into the life of our children.

It is quite impossible to recall any good thing the liquor business has accomplished. Wreck and ruin mark its pathway.

Area Can Retain Independence, Attract Business If It Meets Tests Facing It

The picture for Granite City in the immediate future is not one of a bright, shining, developing area. On the contrary, probably more so than many other areas, Granite City faces a rather dramatic challenge to keep itself a vital independent business community.

This view of the local community through non-rose-colored glasses is the opinion of the Southern Illinois Business Research Bureau. It is not intended as criticism, but rather to show that some major locally-initiated step is essential if there is to be a reversal in the present unattractive economic trend in the downtown business district.

The Bureau continues, "Residents of Granite City and its business community can look at their immediate environs and see examples of communities that failed to meet the challenge of regionalism but faces Granite City."

The challenge of regionalism facing Granite City is one of how a community that is independent, basically sound, and full of local citizens who wish to remain independent can live within a shadow of a major metropolitan area without losing most of its vital functions to the care of the major metropolitan area.

Research has indicated that the challenge to Granite City to develop and grow is not a dream—it is real and practical.

By proper planning and execution of the plans, it is contended that the challenge to Granite City to develop and grow is not a dream—it is real and practical.

The hour is late, but there is still time, SIU believes.

It is evident that, in the Illinois sector of the St. Louis metropolitan area, no other community has taken the lead—and no other community has been actively aware of the problems.

"Granite City can take consolation in the fact that it is vitally aware of its problems and willing to examine itself and plan for the future."

"We would be less than honest if we suggested that the problems are not intense in their magnitude. However, if the research had indicated that the future was in any degree hopeless or that optimism was uncalled for, it would be so reported."

On the contrary, it is felt that immediate action is necessary and that programming must move ahead as quickly as the area can muster its resources and develop its plans.

"Given the commitment to succeed, Granite City will meet the challenge of modern, regional economic development and growth," the researchers concluded.

The question of what local residents think they can do to help the lead—and the officials they elect—who will decide to succeed or give in to failure.

Summer Work Aiding Youths, Community

Summer teenage employment programs sponsored by local cities and the Economic Opportunity Commission in cooperation with business organizations and youth agencies are providing a double benefit.

Unusually conditions along streets and curbs, sidewalks and lots are being cleaned up, making the Quad-Cities neater and cleaner. And many of the participating youths are obtaining their first work experience and earning money that will help them in their future schooling.

MEATES POLITICS

"MEATES POLITICS" read a headline in one newspaper. Both political conventions passed resolutions calling for a solution to the dispute.

Toward November, even the Presidential candidates began to work. The crisis, according to the polls, outweighed all other problems on the minds of voters.

The malaise appeared to be affecting the campaigns. Large number of voters confessed they saw no point in going to the polls. "What's America without pro football, anyway?"

Fortunately, the impasse resolved itself when a public relations adviser for one candidate went for the "long bomb" just a week before Election Day.

He had his candidate propose a new law which would require to contribute $1 a year from their income taxes to the team of their choice.

The scheme, he declared, would provide the money to meet the players' demands and keep the owners in executive jet airplanes. In return, the pro teams agreed to conduct a national tour, with first prize an all-expense-paid trip to the Super Bowl.

The candidate called his plan "The American Football Team Income Tax." He won by a landslide.

SPLIT LIKELY TO HURT REPUBLICAN CHANCES

To the Editor:

Can the Republicans win in November? They have muffed their chances in recent history, but they are in a position to win county and state offices.

Certain people, due to lack of foresight, have been lured into a trap that definitely will spell defeat.

I know the tactics of smart politicians, including the late Thomas Pendergast of Kansas City, Mo., and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago.

Unfortunately, some of the party officials in Madison county have played both ends against the middle and yet still hope to win. The county and state are split, and this could be very destructive in the Nov. 5 election by changing the opinion of independent voters and thus defeating Republican candidates.

Mayor Daley set this up and lured key Republicans in. The Chicago Democrat encouraged the supporters of the late Republican candidates; now he will work even harder to elect Gov. Shapiro, taking advantage of the GOP split.

JOHN B. MOSS

Honesty and Politics--Compatible?

(Views of Paul Simon, Illinois Democratic lieutenant governor nominee)

When I speak to non-political gatherings on the need for more civility, I take an interest in the legislators, frequently I get a question along these lines:

"You always hear that people can go into politics honest, but after serving a few years the temptations become too great and they start taking money. Is this true?"

The facts are:

1. Most public officials are honorable people. The minority which abuses the public trust tends to make the headlines.

2. But we must do everything possible to reduce the possibility of abuse, which is why I favor laws to require lobbyists to disclose what they spend and some type of disclosure law for public officials.

3. Those who go into politics with the purpose of "lining their pockets" probably end up doing so, and those who go into politics with the aim of helping the public and not themselves do that.

What confuses the public is that all candidates for office claim honesty. None advertises, "I am the dishonest candidate for office."

The public has to study the candidates and their records and make determinations as to who can best serve the public interest.

My strong impression is that those who go into politics with the intention of not taking money never find this a great temptation. The temptations to dishonesty are rather along the line of following public opinion when you know it is wrong or not daring to do the unpopular when you know the unpopular is in the public interest.

This Wouldn't Have Happened If...

(Illinois Department of Aeronautics)

The following are not jokes by Bob Hope's staff of writers, but actual quotes from past aviation accident report forms made out by military pilots:

"I admit that this accident was due to pilot error... but I consider the primary cause of my accident to be supervisory error... my wife kept me up nearly all night."

"The accident could have been avoided if my date last night had not been so obstreperous."

"The primary cause of this accident is administrative. I should have never been graduated from flight school."

"I would not have had this accident if I had not been led on by a short flight pattern by Waves sunbathing on the barracks roof."

"I consider the primary cause of my accident to be supervisory error... my wife kept me up nearly all night."

"The accident could have been avoided if my date last night had not been so obstreperous."

Fable of the King Who Wanted Love

(Intermountain Observer, Boise, Idaho)

Once upon a time there was an old king who wanted to be loved. He wanted to be loved from anything else in the world.

When he became king he did everything he could to make the people love him. He helped the poor and educated the ignorant and cured the sick and spent all the largesse he could throughout the land. He even set forth his wife, the queen, to beautify the countryside.

And, oh, how the people loved him. And, oh, how happy he was.

Unfortunately, however, the country became involved in a little war in a little land far away.

The king, basking in the love of his people, said confidently not to worry, he would lead his people to a glorious and easy victory. And the people, loving and believing in him, cheered lustily.

But the little land far, far away, unbeknownst to the king, lay under an all-entangling magic spell. No matter how many soldiers or how much gold the king poured into the war, he couldn't win it. And, being sure he couldn't lose it, he poured more and more money into the war. And, worse yet, he couldn't afford it.

The people grew uneasy. The king grew desperate.

"Victory is just around the corner," he said. "What wasn't true."

"I can fight this war with one more and still distribute largesse throughout the land with the other," he said. "What wasn't true."

"The king who doesn't love his country doesn't love our country," he said. "What wasn't true."

He had his candidate propose a new law which would require to contribute $1 a year from their income taxes to the team of their choice.

The scheme, he declared, would provide the money to meet the players' demands and keep the owners in executive jet airplanes. In return, the pro teams agreed to conduct a national tour, with first prize an all-expense-paid trip to the Super Bowl.

The candidate called his plan "The American Football Team Income Tax." He won by a landslide.

As time passed and the young knights and courtiers and robber barons squabbled among themselves for his crown, and as the war dragged on even without him, the mood of the people slowly changed.

Nobody attacked the old king any more, for he was "without power." Nobody questioned his decisions any more, because he didn't make any. And nobody even took his crown, because he didn't have one.

The people remembered the good things he'd done and forgot his mistakes. They laughed at his sallies and applauded his crustiness and began to venerate him as "an elder statesman."

In fact, they came to love him once again.

What was what the old king wanted more than anything else in the world, he lived happily ever after.

Moral: To be loved, quit while you're behind.

USS Connable Christening Set for Saturday

One of the highest honors the U. S. Navy can bestow upon its distinguished fraternity will be accorded a Madison war hero Saturday when a destroyer escort vessel is christened in his name at the Avondale Shipyard in New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Henry Connable, 1536 Third street, Madison, the mother of the late Commander David R. Connable, will name the $20 million ship—the USS Connable, in ceremonies set for 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

A 22-member delegation of Quad-City residents and other friends departed by air shortly before noon today from St. Louis to attend the dedication and christening event.

Joining his grandmother, local relatives and friends in New Orleans will be the son of the late submarine skipper, Rickart Connable, a graduate student at Syracuse University, N. Y., who was seven months old at the time his father was lost near Nanase Shoto Island in the Sea of Japan in April 1945.

To attend from Here Among those accompanying Mrs. Connable to New Orleans are her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Connable of East St. Louis; a granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Peters, who recently returned from Okinawa; Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras and Mrs. Maeras.

Granite City Comptroller Robert Stevens and Mrs. Stevens; Miss Dorothy Hinson, Kenneth Hinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nichols, Mrs. Dorothy Lindsey, Mrs. Cora Barr, Miss Helen Pollette, Miss Margaret Brown, Mrs. David Friedman, Mrs. Nevenka Kacaleff and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Graville of St. Louis, formerly of Madison.

Arrangements for the christening ceremony are under direct responsibility of Capt. John R. Newland, U. S. Navy, supervisor in charge of shipbuilding conversion and repair, United States Eighth Naval District. Additionally, Henry Z. Carter, president of Avondale Shipyards, where the destroyer-escort vessel was constructed, has been in close correspondence with Mrs. Connable since the project got under way.

Announced in 1968
The initial announcement that

CMR. DAVID R. CONNOLLE, skipper of the submarine Trigger, lost near the Japanese mainland in April 1945.

A ship was to be named for the Madison man came from Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze in September 1966. The keel of the vessel was laid at the Avondale yards on Sept. 6, 1966.

Commander Connable was captain of the submarine Trigger, which was reported "long overdue and presumed lost in the Pacific" on July 5, 1945. The vessel was last heard from three months earlier on April 6 when the submarine was ordered on a special mission north of Formosa, near the Japanese home islands.

The USS Trigger had just sunk a Japanese ship and damaged two others before entering the dangerous Kyushu waters, off the lower Japanese mainland, not far from Nagasaki.

The Trigger, it has been since learned, was to have met two other Navy craft near Nanase Shoto Island in the Sea of Japan—an appointment the 32-year-old skipper and his 84-man crew did not keep.

The late commander's brother noted this week that the area where the Trigger was lost is the deepest part of the Pacific Ocean. No trace of the ship or its crew has ever been found.

Many Campaigns

The youthful submarine officer had shipped the Trigger since March 1944, when he accepted the command in San Pedro and proceeded to Guam, via Pearl Harbor. The vessel had made seven or eight sorties against Japanese shipping and engaged in other missions, including participation in the Okinawa campaign, before departing Guam on March 11, on the Trigger's fateful cruise.

It was to have been the Navy officer's final voyage aboard the submarine.

Commander Connable held several decorations, including two Silver Star Medals and citations. He received the first Silver Star in 1943—"for calm and capable performance of duty under extremely adverse conditions."

The adverse conditions occurred when the submarine USS Pompano, of which he was engineering officer, became stuck on the bottom of the ocean after a daring raid right into the Japanese home waters. Connable, then a lieutenant commander, ordered the crewmen from one end of the ship to the other until the alternating shifting weight finally freed the mired vessel.

Prior to commanding the Trigger, he had served aboard the Pompano and the submarine Sennet in the Pacific theatre, where his ships rolled up an enviable score against the enemy.

Just before taking command of the Trigger, he was stationed for nearly a year at the U. S. Navy Submarine School in New London, Conn., where he was commander of the submarine Cutfish, taking it on training trips in the Atlantic Ocean.

1939 MHS Grad A 1939 graduate of Madison high school, Commander Connable was graduated in the highest third of his class at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1936. He was married to the former Miss Vida Wimbrow of Annapolis and a son, Rickart Alan Connable, was born in September 1944.

His widow has since married Admiral Roy S. Benson, commander of the First Naval District, Boston Navy Yards, Mass.

Paul Connable, the commander's brother, was a captain serving with the Quartermaster Corps in the Netherlands East Indies at the time the Trigger was lost. He was subsequently stationed in Manila and Japan before returning home the following year. Now a resident of MRS. MARY CONNOLLE, who will christen the U. S. Navy's newest destroyer-escort vessel—the USS Connable, at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in New Orleans, La.

East St. Louis, he holds the post of assistant to the president of the St. Louis County Junior College District.

The commander's father, Judge Henry Connable of Madison, died in 1947.

Widely-respected and well-liked by his classmates and superior officers, it is generally believed Commander Connable would have unquestionably achieved the rank of admiral had he lived.

Immediately following the christening Saturday, a direct report of the proceedings will be broadcast over a local radio station, it was learned. The Quad-City delegation is expected to return home Sunday afternoon.

City Now Has 2 Ways to Repair Rail Crossings

Granite City council members heard two suggested methods of carrying out repairs to railroad crossings Monday night.

Alderman Green submitted a newspaper clipping that related how after six years of problems, the city of Wood River plans to use motor fuel tax funds to aid railroads in repairing crossings there by next November.

City Atty. Allen advised the council by letter that under the state Railroad Act the city could carry out repairs to crossings after giving a 30-day notice to the nearest agent of the railroad and then bill the railroad for the repairs.

"This is ample authority for the city to proceed with the repairs," Allen noted, adding that it would be the superintendent of streets who would send out the notices.

Alderman Green, who has been trying for nearly two years to get major repairs to the crossings, asked that a copy of the letter be given Street Supt. Warfield.

Green also called for a study of the procedure for use of motor fuel tax funds for the repairs.

Venice School Board Renews 2 Contracts

Meeting in regular session Monday evening, members of the Venice board of education authorized contract renewals with the Bi-State Transit System for transportation of Venice pupils in 1968-69 and with Page Insurance Co. Agency for student insurance programs this fall.

Student insurance will continue at the same rates as last year, with 24-hour and 8-hour coverage available, Supt. John O. Pier explained.

Also approved was purchase of a bond, through the Fijan-Maeras Agency, for school treasurer, Donald Phillips, in the amount of $833 for a two-year bonding period.

Board members authorized a 25-cent per hour salary increase—to a $3.40 hourly rate—for Mrs. Ruth McDonald, Venice school nurse, and also approved a three-week paid vacation for the nurse, prorated annually on nine months of service.

The 1968-69 school calendar for Venice public schools was adopted, with several changes made from the schedule tentatively agreed to by the board in April.

Changes include a total of 184 teaching days and one county institute day, instead of 182 days listed in the earlier calendar, and calls for Venice schools to terminate classes on May 29, 1969, instead of June 23, previously set as the final day of school.

It may be possible to end the term on May 26, the administrator said, pointing out the calendar will be reviewed during the spring semester.

Preparation by the board's finance committee and school administrators of the annual budget appropriation ordinance is continuing, Supt. Pier advised. He said the 1968-69 budget should be ready for publication in early August.

Wields Club, Fights Police in Venice

A man who alighted from a freight car in Venice, wielding a huge club and shouting that he was there "to kill" was arrested by Venice police Monday night.

Authorities said they arrested William Guatney, 46, Neosha Falls, Kan., after he attacked the two police officers standing on the Main street yards of the GM&O at the request of William Gentry, GM&O yardmaster.

Police said Guatney was carrying a piece of a four-by-four post about three feet long, splintered off at one end to form a handle. Witnesses at the rail yards reported to police that Guatney kept running around the yards, brandishing the club.

Completes Helicopter Rappelling Course

Army Pfc James L. Fuller received a letter of commendation and certificate of graduation June 7 near Pleiku, Vietnam, for completing a voluntary helicopter rappelling course with the 4th Infantry Division.

Pfc Fuller, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Fuller, and wife, Betty, reside at 1604 Minerva avenue, is a construction specialist in Company D of the division's 4th Engineer Battalion.

Rappelling is the loading and unloading of men and materials into and out of hovering helicopters with ropes under combat conditions. The course, taught near Pleiku, also included instruction in jump techniques from 'copters.

The letter of commendation cited the local serviceman for the exceptional physical and mental efforts he put forth during the training and for the fine job he did in the unit's first mission using the new techniques—the construction of an assault landing zone in the middle of an area of heavy enemy activity.

Pfc Fuller, 20, entered the Army in August 1967 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., before arriving in Vietnam last February. He was graduated from Granite City high school in 1966, and was employed by General Steel Industries.

IMA Support of Bonds Hinges on Law Changes

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association will support the state's proposed $1 billion dollar bond issue for conservation and development of natural resources if the Legislature adopts two companion bills pending in the Illinois General Assembly, it was announced yesterday.

The IMA originally opposed the referendum measure as adopted by the state legislature last year, but the new legislative package repeals the original proposal. The new legislation provides that the General Assembly will decide who gets how much of the bond issue proceeds and eliminates definite amounts for specified programs as set up in the original bills.

The new legislation also would provide for a Resource Development Board to manage Illinois Water resources, including recommending priorities among projects and supervising programs approved by the General Assembly.

E. Edgerton Hart, executive vice-president of IMA, said that "although there is still room for improvement in the new legislative proposals, they are certainly superior to the existing laws."

He said that in view of the great need for state and local funds for sewage treatment and collection facilities, it is reasonable to conclude that most of the billion dollars should be spent for this purpose than the $350 million originally prescribed in the bond legislation.

Hi-Run Collision

A car driven by Waldo J. Sizemore, 1024 Third Street, Venice, was damaged at 2:10 a.m. today in a collision at Fourth Street and Broadway with a car whose driver fled the scene, Sizemore told police. The two cars collided as he was making a right turn off Broadway into Fourth street. The driver got out of his car, looked over the damage to his car, then drove away, Sizemore reported.

Property Addresses Recommended for Zoning Change Hearing Notices

A recommendation that the City Planning Commission insert the street or post office address of tracts for which zoning changes are sought in all public hearing notices was made during Monday night's Granite City council session by City Atty. Allen.

The presentation was made in a letter to William Hoelscher, chairman of the commission; and it was suggested that if possible, the zoning ordinance also could be changed to require registered letters be sent to adjacent property owners, advising them of the hearing. Allen said that with the addresses, people would know more quickly the property involved in a zone change request. "Very few can pinpoint a location by legal description," he added. "And it could save the city council a lot of time, that it now takes to hear complaints."

His letter of recommendation would provide for a Resource Development Board to manage Illinois Water resources, including recommending priorities among projects and supervising programs approved by the General Assembly.

E. Edgerton Hart, executive vice-president of IMA, said that "although there is still room for improvement in the new legislative proposals, they are certainly superior to the existing laws."

The alarm system at police headquarters. Street Supt. Warfield was instructed to arrange for the connection. All 11 stations are equipped with an alarm to sound and flash at the police desk in the event of a break-down of pumps or other equipment.

Notice was received from the street highway department that approval has been given to include sections of five streets in the arterial street system, eligible for use of motor fuel tax funds for improvements.

All of the streets are in the Youngs-Colonial Subdivision off Benton street, west of Wilson Park. Included are Michigan avenue from Troy to James street between Michigan and Idaho avenues and St. Paul street between Idaho and Oregon avenues.

Voted down by council members was a recommendation to seek an appraisal for sale of the city dump along Route 203 south of Madison.

Council members decided the dump should be permitted to settle for a few years and then it will be more valuable to any prospective buyer.

Also defeated was a request from St. Elizabeth Hospital for the city to waive building permit fees for the hospital's multi-million dollar expansion program. The roll call, with only 10 aldermen present was 5-0-5. Voting for the hospital request were Bartosiak, Boyd, Poulos, Fry and Jarrett. Opposed were Whitmer, Green, Basarich, Nann and Dawes.

Permission was given the Needle Co. to install additional curbing and two catchbasins on the old 21st street right-of-way along Adams street, which the firm acquired from the city. Expansion of the company parking lot is planned.

SWB Disagrees with City
Placed on file was a reply from the state Sanitary Water Board relative to the city resolution complaining of foul water taste early in May. The state board members said they disagreed with the council's condemnation of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co., stating an investigation showed the water company had done everything possible to correct the matter.

The state board pointed out that with establishment of a staffed office in East St. Louis, investigations can be started much quicker in the future to pinpoint the sources of the bad taste and odor.

Another major item on the Meetings of state officials with representatives of five refineries in the Hartford-Wood River area failed to determine the source, but it was reported the companies were cooperative and plan revisions to tighten waste disposal methods.

Placed on file were audits of city accounts submitted by Jack Huggins, CPA, who also submitted a contract for next year's audit with no increase in the fee despite added funds for the new sanitary and storm water sewer programs. His bill for the current audit was $266.

No copies of the audit were distributed. The new contract with Huggins is to be reviewed by the city attorney before being presented to the council for final approval.

Payment Held Up
Routine bills were approved, but at the request of Alderman Green, payment of $15,734 to General Contracting Co. for work on the sanitary sewer lines was held up. Green called for the contractor to repair streets and alleys in the construction area. "People are damaging their autos because of the conditions. Why in one case, a man even damaged the gas tank on his car."

Another major item on the bill list was payment of $23,628 motor fuel tax funds to A. H. Seebold Co. for work on Johnson road.

Permission was given Teamsters Local 525 to distribute handbills in the vicinity of the A&P Market.

No action was taken by council members on a motion by Alderman Bartosiak to appeal the $17,500 judgment handed down in the circuit court against the city in a suit filed by Mrs. Velma Rapp, who was hurt in a sidewalk fall in the 2300 block of Madison avenue.

It was estimated the appeal would cost the city $2500, and testimony during the trial showed a city employee was aware of the bad condition of the sidewalk.

No action was taken on an anonymous note to the mayor complaining of noise from a revival tent in West Granite. The mayor commented he would do nothing with such a letter "but place it in File 13."

Upon the recommendation of Alderman Whitmer, the council voted for preparation of a congressional resolution suitable for framing to be presented to former alderman G. H. Sternberg, who recently was elected president of Optimist Clubs International.

1969 Wheat Allotments
Set in Crop Program

A 1969 wheat crop allotment featuring a national allotment of $1.6 million acres—down 13% from this year's program for 59.3 million acres—is being announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Lee Rogers, office manager of the Madison County ASCS office.

The new program will make it possible to further strengthen farm prices and reduce the carry over by about 100 million bushels, Rogers noted.

The 1969 wheat allotment program is the same as for 1966. Diversion payments at the maximum rate authorized by law will be offered to farmers for planting less than their acreage allotment and diverting this land to conserving uses, it was pointed out.

Price support loans on 1969 crop wheat will continue to be available at a national average of $1.25 per bushel. Total price support equal to 100% of parity (as of July 1, 1969) will be available on 43% of the cooperating farm's projected production on its allotted acreage, Rogers explained.

4th Associate Judge Sought for County

Legislation that would permit an increase in the number of associate judges for counties the size of Madison county is being sought by a committee appointed by the Madison County Bar Association, it was reported this week.

William Schooley of Granite City, chairman of the committee, said discussions of the proposal had been held with area legislators, and that these will now be renewed since the Illinois Legislature has reconvened in Springfield.

Schooley said renewed discussions are planned to determine if passage of such legislation might be possible in the current session.

If action is possible in the current special session of the General Assembly, the committee will work with the staff of the Illinois court administrator's staff in preparation of a bill that would provide for four associate judges in Madison county.

The present law provides that counties with a population of more than 60,000 may have up to three associate judges. The bar association believes that four associate judges are needed in Madison county because of the heavy court docket.

City's General Fund Balances Dwindling

Transfer of $76,500 out of the working cash fund and $82,500 out of the sales tax reserve fund since the beginning of the fiscal year May 1 left Granite City with a balance totaling $263,129 in all accounts as of July 1, according to a report submitted to the city council Monday night by Comptroller Robert Stevens.

The report, which was accepted by council members, was presented in a new form which groups accounts from which monies may be transferred to the credit of other accounts into a new category known as General Reserve Funds Transferable. Formerly these accounts including tax commissions, the working cash fund, parking meter fund and sales tax fund, were included among general fund and special account items.

A new category known as General Special Funds Transferable also is created in the new report form. These include the Special Police Fund, Special Street Fund, Special Fire Fund and Special Fire Department Equipment Fund.

General Fund Balance
Stevens reported the balance of all general fund items as of June 30 was $126,536, with $42,061 of this amount in the street fund, $12,953 in the general government fund and $10,570 in the police fund. Balances of other individual items range from $214 in the air pollution fund to $8738 in the fire department fund.

At the beginning of the fiscal year two months ago the city had general fund balances totaling only $106,000, the report showed. Regular receipts for all items during May and June amounted to $88,590. To these funds the city added the monies transferred out of working cash and tax commission funds for total income of $83,531.

Expenditures in the general fund since May 1 amounted to $227,074, leaving the $126,536 general fund balance.

The general reserve funds had balances of $380,351 at the beginning of the new fiscal year with additional receipts of $84,106, bringing to $464,457 total available funds in these accounts. Regular disbursements amounted to only $14,161, but the transfer of $139,000 to the general fund accounts left a July 1 balance of $291,296.

Unless a tax distribution is made by the city treasurer's office within the next few weeks, further transfers from the reserve funds appear certain to meet July bills. E. R. "Pat" Rich, city treasurer, said yesterday he is not contemplating an immediate distribution to the city.

In Special Accounts
Balances in all special accounts as of July 1 totaled
